Here is to proposal for a webpage on Anne Frank's House Museum. Create a webpage to allow people to feel and be impacted by Anne Frank's experience hiding in the attic during the time of German occupation during world war two. Anne and her close family and kin will be in the webpage. Objective is to allow viewer a sense that they have traveled to see her house in a time machine. Anne wrote her diary in the attic from July 1942 to August 1, 1944 and webpage is to portray that timeline.

Project Summary: The Anne Frank Website will take the user back in time via photographs and a short story. There are 9 different pages:

- 1.Home page-An introduction to this website
- 2.Inside/Outside of the house-To show outside and inside of the house photo
- 3.Anne's family photographs-To show her family who are her parent and sister
- 4.Who were 4 people in the attic?-To tell their background who are they live with Anne Frank's family
- 5.They had 4 helpers-Who are they work for whom? How much they know Anne's father so well.
- 6.Anne's hobby-actresses/actors magazines and journals)
- 7.Suspect/Betrayed? (Who betrayed Anne's family along with other 4 people in the attic?)
- 8.Contact/Reply
- 9.Credits-Where I found these photographs from other websites.

Audience: From age 16 to 60. Many people already have heard about Anne Frank Story over the years. This is a good opportunity to enable them to enter Anne's House once more website and enhance what they know about Anne Frank's story as well as give knowledge to newcomers on her story.

Perception/Tone: Curious and Inspiring

Anne Frank's relatives, friends and the home she hid in along with others. Her diary had such an emotional depth in her experience of hiding, however she was not able to remain in hiding and be free. She was caught and sent to the concentration camp where she died. Her father, Otto Frank survived. He lost his beloved wife and 2 daughters. He eventually remarried. There were 4 people along with Anne Frank's family hiding in the attic. You'll learn who helped them and also brought magazines & newspapers along with food to keep them surviving and sane. You will also know who arrested Anne Frank's family and the others and send them to various concentration camps. You'll learn two of Anne Frank's hobbies.

There were rumors about who were the sources to impel Karl to look for the Jewish people who were hiding in the Annex Bldg. The source(s) and Karl took their secret to their graves without revealing who was the traitor(s).

Outside of the house

Take a look outside of Anne Frank's house in the picture. It is sandwiched between two houses. During the war, the German soldiers would check each home to make try to find Jewish people living or hidden in the homes. If Jewish people who are hiding made any little noise, the dogs that were part of the search team would bark to let soldiers know there may be folks hiding in the vicinity of the barking dogs.

Image

Image

Anne would on occasion peek outside of the attic window while her Dad took pictures. She was very careful to do that while no German soldiers were outside.

Inside of the house

Here is a photo of the house interior where Anne hid with her parent and sister Margot for almost 2 years. Anne wrote from her diary in the attic from July 1942 to August 1, 1944. They could not come out of their hiding place much. They had 4 friends who helped to deliver foods for the family and friends of the home. Every night, they kept quiet and had the radio off.

Who were 4 people in the attic?

Fritz Pfeffer was looking for someone who would help to hide him. Miep Gies who had worked with Otto Frank for quite long time asked Otto Frank for permit to bring one more person to hide in his place. Otto said, "Well, come in but please do not bring any more people as the attic room is full now!" He was very lucky.

image

Hermann worked for Otto Frank's office and also knew their family pretty well.

image

Hermann and Auguste Van Pels had a son Peter whereas Anne and Peter liked each other very much.

They had 4 helpers

image

Bep Voskuijl who worked for Otto Frank's office in the Annex Building did his part to help Frank's Family and others inside the attic.

image

Johannes Kleiman also worked for Otto Frank's office.

image

Miep Gies, was the one who found Anne Frank's diary and other journals. She hid them until Otto Frank were freed from the concentration camp and gave it to him.

image

Victor Kugler also worked for Otto Frank's office.

Anne's hobby

Image

Anne's journals. Anne has always wanted to be a journalist herself and as wrote several stories before she went into hiding. She had great imagination on being a great writer and looked up some movie scripts.

Image

Anne's magazines. She loved to look at the actresses & actors photographs. She posted some of pictures on attic the wall. Miep Gies and other helpers brought to her some magazines that she could read the news about the Hollywood movie stars.

Active: 1925-45
Divisions: 38
Between 1929-32: There were 52,000 members of SS.
Between 1932-45: There were over 209,000 members of SS.

Who were the three suspected/guilty? and Was the one policeman arrested Frank Family?

Willem van Maaren

Willem van Maaren was suspected by many people that he stole many things from warehouse and as got desperate to raise cash for his needs. He knew that 8 people were hidden in the attic where he worked at the warehouse. He may have made a call to Karl Siberbauer and ended up as a traitor as he told him about the Jewish people hiding in the attic.

Lena Hartog-van Bladeren was a mystery and there were very little information about her and who she was. But her husband, Lammert Hartog who worked at the warehouse may have his wife about the Jewish people who were hiding in the attic. She may have been compelled to report them for the reward money. Many people think that Lena who was an employer for Otto Frank to clean the Annex bldg knew about the hiding place where Anne Frank's family and other 4 people were kept in the attic.

Tonny Ahlers

image

Tonny Ahlers was friend with Otto Frank but he was a criminal petty, thief and trait to Karl. From what Tonny's son overhead.

Karl J. Silberbauer-SS policeman

image

Karl Siberbauer who worked as SD-policeman to do investigate where to locate Jewish people who were hiding in many ways in attics, sewers or under the house, and used fake ID cards. He did not reveal the source that leads him to find Anne Frank's family and 4 other Jewish people in that attic.
